

World Golf Targets, Dallas

Client: World Golf Systems Year of Completion: 2007

After years of working closely with leisure company World Golf Systems, Architen Landrell are pleased to have completed yet another project with the owners of the UK's largest golf gaming centres 'Top Golf'; this time manufacturing a series of targets at a new American centre in Dallas.

After installing an impressive roofing canopy at their centre in Watford, Architen Landrell and the golfing company have built up a reliable and lasting partnership which has grown over the years.

Now having worked on all three British golf ranges, based in Watford, Chigwell and Addlestone, as well as in the USA and Far East, we are pleased to have added another site to the list by installing a series of targets at the American centre.

These targets, produced from Batyline fabric, were manufactured in Chepstow before being shipped to Dallas for installation. They form a vital part of the overall scheme as players aim to score as many points as possible by hitting golf balls into any of the eleven fabric targets on a ten acre outfield.
